

about the artist...

Wayne Mondok

*W*ayne was born in Toronto and is a self-taught artist who began drawing at an early age. In 1983, he attended the Humber College Graphic Design Program. After graduating in 1985, Wayne worked as a graphic artist for a few years. In 1988, he began painting full-time and has done various commercial work, including novel covers, book illustrations and other advertisements. Wayne published his first limited edition reproduction in 1988, entitled "Reflections of the Past".

Most of Wayne's paintings are done with acrylics, although he sometimes uses oils, watercolours or gouache. Wayne paints various-sized works mostly on canvas, masonite or illustration board. His subject matter covers a wide variety of areas, as seen in his painting "Toronto St."

Wayne works from his studio just outside Toronto and is currently represented at the Westmount Gallery in Toronto and Koyman Galleries in Ottawa.
